DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-19 in the reply filed on 04-FEB-2005 is acknowledged.

Claims 20-36 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected claim grouping, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 04-FEB-2005.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,692,674. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are directed to a method of making a fastener product having discrete regions of fastener element stem extending from a base, comprising: providing a gap along the surface of a mold roll; introducing/positioning a sleeve to the gap, continuously introducing molten resin to the gap, solidifying the resin, and striping the solidified resin from the mold roll, a mold roll having stem shaped cavities or shaped to form loop engaging heads, deforming distal tips of the stems, and a sleeve having a least one aperture.

Claims 1-5 directed to an invention not patentably distinct from the claims of commonly assigned U.S. Patent No. 6,692,674. Specifically, the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are directed to a method of making a fastener product having discrete regions of fastener element stem extending from a base, comprising: providing a gap along the surface of a mold roll; introducing/positioning a sleeve to the gap, continuously introducing molten resin to the gap, solidifying the resin, and stripping the solidified resin from the mold roll, a mold roll having stem shaped cavities or shaped to form loop engaging heads, deforming distal tips of the stems, and a sleeve having a least one aperture.

The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office normally will not institute an interference between applications or a patent and an application of common ownership (see MPEP § 2302). Commonly assigned U.S. Patent No. 6,692,674, discussed above, would form the basis for a rejection of the noted claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) if the commonly assigned case qualifies as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) and the conflicting inventions were not commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made. In order for the examiner to resolve this issue, the assignee can, under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and 37 CFR 1.78(c), either show that the conflicting inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made, or name the prior inventor of the conflicting subject matter.

A showing that the inventions were commonly owned at the time the invention in this application was made will preclude a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) based upon the commonly assigned case as a reference under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g), or 35 U.S.C. 102(e) for applications filed on or after November 29, 1999.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6-14 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not teach or render obvious the instantly claimed process as a whole, comprising the formation of a fastener product having a backing material that is selectively coated and laminated with a barrier material. Fastener products are well known in the art to comprise backing materials (eg. see Kennedy et al.) without a selective coating.

Claims 15-19 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not teach or render obvious the instantly claimed process as a whole, comprising the formation of a fastener product wherein a barrier material is introduced into a mold gap, such that the barrier material masks a portion of the molding surface and then is incorporated into the fastener product.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
